DARUVAR – THE CRANE'S CITY

The name of the city, Daruvar, has origin from Hungarian language, Daru- crane, var-city, and all because of the crane's figure on the central position in the count Antun Janković coat of arms. While crane stands on one foot, it holds a rock as a symbol of eternal vigilance on its guard duty. By building a baroque castle on a small hill above the city center count Antun Janković named the city Daruvar which in the second half of the 18th century broaden to the settlement which was developed around it.

Awards

Four golden, two silver and one bronze award received from Croatian National Tourist Board have confirmed that picturesque city Daruvar is the tidiest little city in the continental part of Croatia. For the three times in a row, the city was declared as the best tourism destination with spa according to voting conducted by Croatian Chamber of Economy and Croatian Radio Television called "Tourist flower- Quality for Croatia". The compound of greenery and urban architecture, multiculturalism, fertile vineyards and friendly people are just some of the reasons that have contributed to this flattery titles.
